

A Case of Mistaken Identity – Beware of the Cyber Jungle!

The DOE OCIO is pleased to announce the Spring 2012 Cybersecurity Awareness Toolkit!

This toolkit was developed as a free resource to assist organizations with the ongoing task of raising Cybersecurity awareness . This kit combines a collection of free materials such as a themed poster, bookmarks, checklists, flyers, and brochures that address security measures required for safe social networking in the ‘cyber jungle’ as well as Internet safety tips for work and home. Employees must be constantly vigilant of personal information that they provide on websites and be familiar with current social engineering ‘tricks of the trade.’

The purpose of this kit is to provide the organization with ideas and resources to assist with developing a cyber awareness campaign – not to prescribe a theme or format. Organizations can use the theme and materials in their entirety or can use the materials to enhance a local campaign. All materials included in this toolkit can be reproduced as long as they are used for educational purposes only. If you have any questions, please e-mail cybsectrn@hq.doe.gov.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Office of the Chief
Information Officer