N1-388-00-01 (REVISED)

The Southeastern Power Administration SEPA was created in 1950 by the Secretary of Interior to carry out the functions assigned to the Secretary by the Flood Control Act of 1944. In 1977 SEPA was transferred to the Department of Energy (DOE). (SEPA) is one of four power marketing administrations (PMA) within DOE. Its mission is to market federal hydroelectric power at the lowest possible cost to public bodies and cooperatives in the Southeastern United States in a professional, innovative, customer-oriented manner, while continuing to meet the challenges of an ever-changing electric utility environment through continuous improvement. Power is generated from projects constructed and operated by the Corps of Engineers. SEPA is responsible for providing safe and reliable energy while fully repaying the Federal investment, including interest and all annual costs in accordance with Section 5 of the Flood Control Act of 1944.

Although SEPA does not own any transmission systems or real property, its records are similar to those of other PMAs and the Bureau of Reclamation within the Department of the Interior.

Reference is made on SEPA's SF-115s to Job Numbers for approved SF-115s submitted by the Bureau of Reclamation and Bonneville Power Administration for records that are similar to SEPA's. SEPA program specialists have reviewed and agree with these referenced and approved retention periods.
