Re: Ex Parte Communication on Central Air-Conditioner Test Procedure - ICM Issues

On October 8, 2015, AHRI staff and Independent Coil Manufacturer (ICM) Representatives met with a representative from the Department of Energy (DOE) to discuss proposed amended test procedures for central air conditioners and how they would impact ICM manufacturers. The meeting was held at AHRI offices in Arlington, Virginia. A list of attendees is provided below.

At the meeting, the group discussed issues pertaining to the rulemaking, including testing and reporting requirements for ICM manufacturers, with Ashley Armstrong of DOE. The group also discussed possible topics for further analysis and discussion.
