To United States Department of Energy
From Benjamin Longstreth, Natural Resources Defense Council
Date June 8, 2011
Re Ex Parte Communication

On Monday, May 23, 2011, Andrew DeLaski of the Appliance Standards Awareness Project and I had a telephone call with Dan Cohen, Sam Walsh, and John Cymbalsky. The subject of the call concerned DOE's review of existing energy efficiency standards that are now more than or will soon be more than six years old. This included a number of products that were included in the Department's Notice of Data Availability for Commercial Heating, Air-Conditioning, and Water Heating Equipment, Docket No. EERE-2011-BT-STD-0029.
