

Former Worker Medical Screening Program (FWP)

DOE FWP Webinar – October 12, 2022 2:00 (ET)

Overview of the DOE Former Worker Medical Screening Program

The U.S. Department of Energy is hosting a webinar to discuss the DOE Former Worker Medical Screening Program.

Presenters will discuss:

- Former Worker Medical Screening Program overview
- Why the program is important to DOE workers
- Overview of the FWP infrastructure
- Introductions to the Six FWP
- Medical Screening Exam Findings

Discussion led by:

Greg Lewis, director, Office of Worker Screening and Compensation Support
Office of Environment, Health, Safety and Security, DOE

Nickie Warren, program manager, Pantex Former Worker Medical Surveillance Program

Aisha Rivera Margarín, MD, MS, Co-principal investigator, JHU Former Workers Program for Los Alamos and Sandia National Laboratories

Jill Welch, project coordinator, Burlington AEC Plant and Ames Laboratory FWP

Zachary Busse, program coordinator, Worker Health Protection Program

Kim Cranford, medical manager, Building Trades National Medical Screening Program

Wendy Benade, program coordinator, National Supplemental Screening Program

October 12, 2022

2:00-3:00 p.m. ET

Register Here

Register by October 12, 2022, 12:00pm, to join this webinar. This webinar will be recorded.

About the FWP:

The FWP provides ongoing medical screening examinations, at no cost, to all former DOE Federal, contractor, and subcontractor workers who may be at risk for occupational diseases. The FWP is supported by the DOE Office of Environment, Health, Safety and Security (EHSS) and reflects our commitment to the health and safety of all DOE workers - past and present - who have served the Nation in its National security and other missions. <https://www.energy.gov/ehss/former-worker-medical-screening-program>