Welcome to the 2022 Tribal Clean Energy Summit

Thank you for joining this important dialogue. Our theme this year focuses on strategically aligning U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) support for tribal energy sovereignty.

DOE is leading the nation in meeting climate challenges by accelerating our transition to a clean energy future. As a result, we have many new and expanded authorities, as well as historic levels of resources, to engage and support Tribal governments and Alaska Native Corporations in that transition.

This Summit asks us all to rise to this historic occasion. Together, we will learn about new tools, make new connections, and commit to exploring new opportunities. By the end of the Summit, we will have taken our first steps together in this journey to a cleaner, safer, and more prosperous future for all.

Again, welcome! I look forward to connecting with you over the next 2 days.
