

Acknowledgments

The 3D House was developed by Joshua Bauer (National Renewable Energy Laboratory), Jal Desai (National Renewable Energy Laboratory), and Cory Chovanec (National Renewable Energy Laboratory) in 2022. The development team would like to acknowledge the U.S. Department of Energy's Weatherization and Intergovernmental Programs Office for funding this work, Derek Schroeder (U.S. Department of Energy), and Chuck Kurnik (National Renewable Energy Laboratory) for their help, review, and feedback.

Licensing and Agreements

Alliance for Sustainable Energy, LLC, the manager and operator of the National Renewable Energy Laboratory (NREL) under Prime Contract NO. DE-AC36-08GO28308 with the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) is licensing the 3D House to all users. The 3D House is available publicly under the Creative Commons Attribution—No Derivatives license.

In addition, the Creative Commons Attribution—No Derivatives license applies to Installer Passport and Verification Criteria. This gives the user permission to distribute augmented material as long as the NREL core material is unchanged. Examples of augmented materials includes images, videos, or additional text.

When using or distributing the 3D House in this way, users must provide the following copyright notice:
