Hello,

I hope this email finds you well. I wanted to inform you that the Motion to Intervene on the Alaska LNG Project LLC, Docket No. 14-96-LNG, from the Cook Inletkeeper and the Center for Biological Diversity that was originally mailed on August 15, 2022 was located by the Department of Energy's (DOE) Office of Fossil Energy and Carbon Management (FECM). The envelope from the United States Postal Service Priority Mail indicates that the documents were mailed on August 15, 2022 and expected delivery to DOE on August 19, 2022, consistent with prior communication and the date stamp that FECM applied to the resubmission of the Motion posted in the docket. There is nothing else needed at this time, just informing you for your awareness. Please let me know if you have any additional questions.

Regards,
Jennifer

Good morning,

Thank you for your response and explanation on how the Motion to Intervene on the Alaska LNG Project LLC, Docket No. 14-96-LNG, was submitted. FECM has not received the Motion through DOE's normal mail process, and therefore is requesting that you resubmit the Motion to Intervene and the postage receipt to our official email address, FERGAS@hq.doe.gov. We understand that this issue was beyond your control, so once we receive the Motion to Intervene through the official email address we will post it to the docket with the date stamp of August 19, 2022 (the date the Motion was physically delivered to DOE). For transparency, we will also include a cover statement in the docket posting explaining what happened.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
Jennifer

Subject: FW: Motion for Intervention from Cook Inletkeeper and Center for Biological Diversity

Good morning,
On August 30, the Office of Fossil Energy and Carbon Management (FECM) received an Answer of Alaska Gasline Development Corporation in Opposition to Motion for Late Intervention for Cook Inletkeeper and Center for Biological Diversity. FECM, however, does not have record on receiving a Motion for Intervention from Cook Inletkeeper and Center for Biological Diversity. Can you please advise and confirm when and how the motion was submitted?

Regards,
Jennifer
