Qualifying Advanced Energy Project Credit (48C) Program Introduction

Applicants who applied for the 2023 allocation year of the 48C tax credit program will utilize the new 48C Portal at www.eco.energy.gov/48C beginning on February 29th, 2024. This is where applicants will be directed to view their allocation decisions and, in the future, apply for certification and in service notification on their applicable applications. Each individual associated with an application will need an ID.me account to access the new portal.

Applicants will also submit concept papers and applications on the new 48C Portal for future allocations.

Department of Energy Announcement:

Credit Overview

The Qualifying Advanced Energy Project Credit (§ 48C) program aims to strengthen U.S. industrial competitiveness and clean energy supply chains. As the nation builds a net-zero economy, the § 48C tax credit program aims to play a critical role to create high-quality jobs, reduce industrial emissions, and increase domestic production of critical clean energy products and materials. The Inflation Reduction Act provided $10 billion in new funding under § 48C(e), with at least $4 billion reserved for projects in certain energy communities with closed coal mines or retired coal-fired power plants, to allocate credits to projects in three categories: (1) Clean energy manufacturing and recycling, (2) greenhouse gas emission reduction, and (3) critical materials refining, processing, and recycling.

Qualified Advanced Energy Project Credit (48C) Program Applicant User Guide

The Qualifying Advanced Energy Project Credit (48C) Program will use ID.me, a trusted technology partner of the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE), to verify the identity of all 48C program users. You'll need to verify your identity with ID.me to use the new 48C Portal. ID.me meets the federal government's most rigorous technical and policy controls for privacy and information security.

ID.me Registration Tips:

1. Your ID.me account is your digital identity. You can only have one identity, so you can only have one ID.me account.
2. Your ID.me account is portable and moves with you across the internet. You may have already created an ID.me account at another government agency or private organization. Log in with that same email and password for 48C.
3. If you have an ID.me account, make sure you add the email address you used for your 48C application to your ID.me account. Once it is added, make it the primary email address on your account.
4. If you do not have an ID.me account, you will be able to create one on February 29, 2024, or the first time you attempt to access the new 48C Portal after February 29, 2024. When you create your ID.me account, make sure you use the email address you used for your 48C application.

Privacy Notices and Security Information

The 48C Portal contains several disclosures and notices related to privacy and security of the information captured in the Applicant Portal.

Protecting Your Privacy

Prior to logging in to the Applicant Portal you are provided general information related to how DOE will protect your privacy in accordance with the IRS’s federal tax information (FTI) protection standards under Internal Revenue Service Code Section 6103 and other federal laws and regulations. For more information on the way DOE protects your information, review our privacy policy.

Protecting your Privacy

When you visit the Department of Energy’s (DOE) Tax Credit Portal to submit your application, you will be providing information to the DOE, acting on behalf of the Department of Treasury’s Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for a tax administration purpose. Applications, communications between the DOE and applicants, and other records created while determining allocations and credits are confidential return information of the taxpayer maintained by the IRS. The DOE will protect your privacy in accordance with the IRS’s tax information protection standards under Internal Revenue Code Section 6103 and other federal laws and regulations. For more guidance on the way the DOE protects your information, please review the DOE’s privacy policy at www.energy.gov/privacy; for more guidance on how IRS protects taxpayer information and your privacy, please review the IRS’s privacy policies at www.irs.gov/privacy.

Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

When you register as a new user in the Applicant Portal, you will be prompted to read and agree to the Section 48C Tax Credit Program Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. You must acknowledge the Privacy Notice to submit Applications and Concept Papers via the Applicant Portal.

The screenshot shows a web page titled "Section 48e Tax Credit Program Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice". It contains a detailed notice from the Department of Energy (DOE) regarding the collection of information for tax credit eligibility. The notice includes a "Log Out" link in the top right corner and a "Next" button at the bottom right.

The screenshot shows a consent form with the following text: "Providing this information is voluntary but necessary to process your application. If you choose to apply for the tax credit allocation under Code Section 48e, you must provide all requested information. Failure to provide complete information may delay or prevent processing or reviewing of your materials. Providing false or fraudulent information may subject you to penalties." Below this, it states: "You are not required to respond to a collection of information that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the collection displays a valid OMB control number. The OMB number for this collection of information is 1545-2308. Books or records relating to tax matters must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law." At the bottom, there is a checkbox for "I agree" and a "Next" button.
