Mexico Pacific Limited LLC

Docket Nos. 18–70–LNG
22–167–LNG

Protest of Public Citizen, Inc., Natural Resources Defense Council and Sierra Club, and Intervention of Natural Resources Defense Council and Sierra Club

Mexico Pacific Limited LLC (MPL) is developing a proposed liquefied natural gas (LNG) export facility in Sonora, Mexico utilizing natural gas sourced from the United States. We protest the March 6 change in control¹ because it is deficient and therefore inconsistent with the public interest. The notice lists a Second Transaction where a shell company, Mexico Pacific Holdings L.P., obtained voting control of MPL pursuant to the terms of a Second Restated MXP Agreement, with control of MPL’s “business and affairs” vested in a Board of Managers comprised initially of three persons.² The notice fails to identify the persons or entities that control Mexico Pacific Holdings, L.P.

The Department of Energy’s change in control regulations require applications seeking to export natural gas from the United States to identify “all the participants in the transaction, including the parent company, if any, and identification of any corporate or other affiliations among the participants” with “a rebuttable presumption that control exists ... from the ownership or the power to vote, directly or indirectly, 10 percent or more of the voting securities of such entity.”³ Mexico Pacific’s decision to only list a shell company— Mexico Pacific Holdings L.P.— fails the Department of Energy’s change in control disclosure requirements.

At a minimum, the Department of Energy must compel public disclosure of:

- The limited liability agreement of Mexico Pacific Holdings L.P., which will detail what entities or individuals have rights and can control it.
- The entire Second Restated MXP Agreement, as it will describe what entities or persons can control it.
- The identities of the people serving on its Board of Managers, since they direct the management of MPL.

Absent these disclosures, the Department of Energy and the public have no idea who controls Mexico Pacific Holdings L.P. or MPL. It is inconsistent with the public interest to approve a change in control that divulges nothing but a shell company as the ultimate upstream owner.

³ 79 FR 65541, www.federalregister.gov/documents/2014/11/05/2014-25143/procedures-for-changes-in-control-affecting-applications-and-authorizations-to-import-or-export

Slightly more information is available about the owner in the First Transaction from February 3 through March 3, Kronos Polo L.P., because of Texas incorporation records, but even these secondary disclosures are inadequate and inconsistent with the public interest.⁴ Exhibit A is the December 17, 2024 Certificate of Formation of Kronos Polo LP, listing Michael LaGatta of Fort Worth, Texas as its registered agent and Kronos Polo Advisors LLC as its general partner. Exhibit B is the December 17, 2024 Certificate of Formation of Kronos Polo Advisors LLC, which lists Michael LaGatta and Alberto Lacarra as managers. Exhibit C is the December 31, 2024 public information report of Kronos Polo Advisors LLC which lists Kronos Holding Advisors LLC as its parent company. Exhibit D is the November 5, 2024 Certificate of Formation of Kronos Holding Advisors LLC which lists Michael LaGatta as the registered agent and Alberto Lacarra as its manager.

The change in control notice states that “[t]he prior controlling equity holder, Quantum LNG Holdings, LLC, will retain a material non-equity economic interest in the project together with prior minority equity owners,”⁵ with a media report adding that “Mexico Pacific, through a spokesperson, said Quantum [Capital] remains a partner in the project with an economic interest.”⁶ This appears to suggest that one potential purpose of the shuffle involving Kronos and Mexico Pacific Holdings, L.P. is to obscure current and future investors as limited partners instead of equity owners in an effort to conceal the identities of future owners and investors.

Absent additional disclosure of Mexico Pacific Holdings L.P.—including its limited liability agreement, the entire Second Restated MXP Agreement and the identities of all people serving on its Board of Managers—the change in control should be deemed deficient because the Department of Energy and the public have absolutely no idea who actually controls MPL, and therefore the current change in control notice is inconsistent with the public interest.

Intervention of Natural Resources Defense Council

On May 7, 2025, the Office of Fossil Energy and Carbon Management (“FECM”) of the Department of Energy (“DOE”) published a notice in the Federal Register, indicating that it would accept protests, motions to intervene, notices of intervention, and written comments through a public comment period through May 22, 2025. 90 Fed. Reg. 19288. Hence, DOE should permit the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC) to intervene in the docket for the purpose of responding to Mexico Pacific Limited’s Change in Control. The Department requires would-be-intervenors to set out the “facts upon which [their] claim of interest is based” and “the position taken by the movant.”¹⁰ C.F.R. § 590.303(b)-(c). As explained in the following section, NRDC’s position is that MPL’s Change in Control Notice should be denied. NRDC’s interests are based on the impact that the project’s proposed exports will have on its members and mission.

⁶ Ruth Liao, Quantum Capital Divests Control at Mexico Pacific LNG in Shuffle, March 6, 2025, Bloomberg Terminal.

NRDC is a national non-profit membership organization with more than three million members and engaged community participants worldwide, including in domestic areas with significant gas infrastructure development. NRDC has hundreds of members throughout the southwest, including the Permian Basin region and other areas that will be impacted by increased gas production utilized to supply gas to the MPL project. NRDC is committed to the preservation and protection of the environment, public health, and natural resources. To this end, NRDC conceives and develops policies that reduce greenhouse gas emissions and other forms of pollution, and that accelerate the deployment of energy efficiency and renewable energy. NRDC continues to have a longstanding and active interest in ensuring need-driven and efficient energy resource development, protecting consumers from rising energy costs, promoting environmental justice, curbing harmful fossil fuel expansion, expanding clean energy resources, and protecting the public from environmental threats, including the protection of waterbodies and wetlands.

MPL's Change in Control will harm NRDC's members by increasing gas production and associated air pollution, including (but not limited to) global greenhouse gas emissions, air pollutants, and ozone precursors; increasing energy prices; and harming wildlife that NRDC's members enjoy viewing. The Change in Control Notice lacks the necessary information for NRDC and its members to adequately consider the harms associated with this project.

Pursuant to 10 C.F.R. § 590.303(d), NRDC identifies the following persons for the official service list:

Intervention of Sierra Club

The U.S. Department of Energy should permit Sierra Club to intervene in the docket for the purpose of responding to Mexico Pacific's Change in Control. The Department requires would-be-intervenors to set out the "facts upon which [their] claim of interest is based" and "the position taken by the movant." 10 C.F.R. § 590.303(b)-(c). As explained in the following section, Sierra Club's position is that MPL's Change in Control Notice should be denied. Sierra Club has previously intervened in the underlying Mexico Pacific Limited DOE docket, and has an interest in the information necessary to adequately review the project's change in control. Sierra Club's interests are based on the impact that the project's proposed exports will have on its members and mission.

Sierra Club is a national, non-profit organization with 67 chapters and over 600,000 members nationally, dedicated to exploring, enjoying, and protecting the wild places of the earth; to practicing and promoting the responsible use of the earth's ecosystems and resources; to educating and enlisting humanity to protect and restore the quality of the natural and human environment; and to using all lawful means to carry out these objectives. Sierra Club has many members throughout the southwest, including within the Permian Basin region and other areas that will likely be impacted by increased gas production associated with this project. The export anticipated by this project will harm Sierra Club and its members by increasing the prices they pay for energy, including both gas and electricity. As the Department and the Energy Information Administration have previously explained, each marginal increase in export volumes is also expected to further increase domestic energy prices. The Change in Control Notice lacks the necessary information for Sierra Club and its members to adequately consider the harms associated with this project.

The proposed exports associated with the project will further harm Sierra Club members by increasing gas production and associated air pollution, including (but not limited to) emission of greenhouse gases and ozone precursors. Additionally, the project will have harmful impacts to the environment and human health.
