General Comment

The project will damage the quality of the air we breath, it also will bring the risk of fire/explosion, that could affect irretrievably to the totally of the different ecosystems where the gas pretend to pass.

Specifically, the whales are in most danger, this structure will affect them irreversibly.

But the damages not only be for the environment, the fish production that we consume will be affect too, and the economy related to that will be resend in the future.

At the end, nobody can eat money.
