General Comment

Please think about the negative impact that this project will have upon the biodiversity and the whole ecosystem of one of the most diverse seas in the world. Also, the implications that this project represents over the economic activities in the region where the industry will establish will end up forcing families to lose their business (mostly fishing) and end up fighting for a job position in the industry that will kill all of the fishes in the area. Now, on a more serious note, we Mexicans know that this project is only possible to develop here because in your country, USA, these kind of infrastructure is prohibited, and there are a lot of reasons of why they are. Such as fracking and just destroying the soil to move gas from one point to another. Please don't think only of those few people that will enrich themselves by doing this, think about the people and all of the animals that will suffer as a consequence. Thank you.
