General Comment

Urgent Warning: Stop This Destructive Project

If constructed, this project would further aggravate the environmental crisis—not only contributing to Mexico’s already accelerated and disproportionate warming (surpassing the global average), but also threatening the natural habitat of 85% of local marine mammals.

To anyone reading this: BE AWARE. The individuals and institutions that stand to profit from this project are the same ones who have repeatedly proven they will not hesitate to sacrifice people, ecosystems, or animals—whether in Mexico, Spain, China, the U.S., or anywhere else—for short-term economic gain.

This must be stopped. Neither Mexico nor any life form should continue to bear the devastating consequences of extractivism to serve the interests of a powerful few.
