General Comment

No, you don't need another way to export gas and even if you did it should be done in your own country, have you learned nothing from the massive animal deaths provoked by humans? killing whales and the hundreds of species living in that area isn't progress. Instead of putting another country's diversity and well being start making a better place for your own citizens, you have a long way to go and already a lot of money in your pockets, maybe start using it to give americans a better life rather than destroy the planet and finance wars.

MÉXICO NO QUIERE SU PROYECTO ECOCIDA. LOS MEXICANOS NO APOYAMOS ESTO.

I really hope you can do good this time, or at least not harm other countries for the sake of rich people's wealth for once in your history as a country.
