Subject: [EXTERNAL] Protecting U.S. Energy: Deny Saguaro LNG Permit

Date: Wednesday, December 17, 2025 6:25:52 PM

Dear U.S. Department of Energy,

I am reaching out to express significant concerns regarding the proposed extension for the Saguaro LNG export permit. This project poses a substantial risk to our national interests and undermines the economic and strategic landscape of the United States.

Economic and Strategic Concerns

- **Impact on the U.S. Economy:**
- Exporting LNG to Asia diverts critical gas resources from American consumers and industries.
- This project competes directly with our Gulf Coast LNG operations, threatening further domestic investments in energy infrastructure.
- By draining resources from the Permian Basin, we risk enriching foreign markets at the expense of our national wealth.
- **Energy Security Threats:**
- The prioritization of these export terminals undermines our energy independence.
- Committing U.S. gas to international markets diminishes our domestic supply and strengthens our competitors.

Legal and Environmental Issues

- The federal court in Mexico has already issued a suspension on project activities.
- Permits for this project lack proper environmental authorization. Approving the extension ignores these legal challenges and the potential fallout from ongoing litigation.

Call to Action

In light of these issues, I strongly urge the Department to deny the extension. It is essential to protect American interests and focus on fostering our LNG capabilities.

Respectfully,

Hedvig Liliana
