General Comment

I do not support extending this. I think we should switch to Free Trade Agreements. I think that with the instability of the world, it is important we keep an eye on who is receiving support and resources from us to avoid enabling the harm of others. I think the American people need better transparency and accountability of which countries we are providing which resources to. The lackadaisical blind trust in those seeking profit to behave in a morally upstanding way has proven ineffective and naive. I think we need the legislative accountability.
