Notes:

1. The level of the 2024 annual PM_{2.5} NAAQS is 9.0 micrograms per cubic meter (µg/m³). The design value is the annual mean concentration, averaged over three consecutive years. Monitoring sites must meet the data completeness requirements listed in Appendix N to 40 CFR Part 50 in order to have a valid design value.

2. The design values shown here are computed using Federal Reference Method or equivalent data reported by State, Tribal, and Local monitoring agencies to EPA's Air Quality System (AQS) as of May 28, 2025. Concentrations flagged by State, Tribal, or Local monitoring agencies as having been affected by an exceptional event (e.g., wildfire, volcanic eruption) and concurred by the associated EPA Regional Office are not included in these calculations.

Disclaimer: The information listed in this report and in these tables is intended for informational use only and does not constitute a regulatory determination by EPA as to whether an area has attained a NAAQS. The information set forth in this report has no regulatory effect. To have a regulatory effect, a final EPA determination as to whether an area has attained a NAAQS or attained a NAAQS as of its applicable attainment date can be accomplished only after rulemaking that provides an opportunity for notice and comment. No such determination for regulatory purposes exists in the absence of such a rulemaking. This report does not constitute a proposed or final rulemaking.
