This is probably the worst scenario of the Department of Energy attempting to choose winners and losers. This powerline is simply not economically viable. It is also disturbing the Department of Energy has not explained who will be owning this easement and who will be paying any property taxes on this project. Maybe it would be best if the Secretary of Energy were to come to Arkansas and explain why this powerline is needed.

He can also explain why the ratepayers of the TVA why they should pay a higher rate for wind energy.

It makes one wonder why the President is determined to force this overpriced powerline on Oklahoman and Arkansas.
