Project Overview

The Citizen Potawatomi Nation seeks to create long-term energy strategies, explore development of tribal utilities, and analyze renewable energy and energy efficiency options.
Objective One

Conduct planning sessions with the Citizen Potawatomi Nation Strategic Energy Planning Team. The goal is to set a baseline assessment and create an energy vision.
Team Members

CPN Chairman – Mr. John A. Barrett Jr.
CPN Vice Chairman – Ms. Linda Capps
CPN Secretary-Treasurer – Mr. D. Wayne Trousdale
Deputy Administrator – Mr. Bob Trousdale
Director/Self-Governance – Ms. Rhonda Butcher
Project Coordinator – Mr. Art Muller
CDIF Director – Ms. Kristi Coker
Housing Authority Director – Mr. Bob Carlile
Objective Two

Conduct an analysis of energy efficiency opportunities to reduce overhead and increase the efficiency of energy consuming devices, improve design of the overall system, switch to a more efficient system, improve control of the system, improve maintenance, and reduce energy demand in Citizen Potawatomi Nation buildings.
Objective Three

Conduct analysis and study feasibility of biomass and geothermal resources, propane and natural gas distribution systems, and the future of hydrogen and fuel cells for production, transportation, and storage of large quantities of energy.
The CPN & Geo-Thermal Energy

The CPN uses geo-thermal energy in its health care clinic.
The CPN & Geo-Thermal Energy

The CPN’s Heritage Center, now on the drawing board, will feature use of geo-thermal energy.
Objective Four

The Citizen Potawatomi Nation will address electricity restructuring by increasing our participation beyond continuing to purchase electricity from the local distribution utility. Determining the opportunities and pitfalls of electricity restructuring will prepare the CPN to protect and serve tribal interests.
