

Communications, Education, and Outreach Team

This fact sheet provides information about the U.S. Department of Energy Office of Legacy Management Communications, Education, and Outreach Team.

Who Is the Communications, Education, and Outreach (CEO) Team?

The CEO Team was created by the Department of Energy Office of Legacy Management (LM) to support the organization’s strategic goal of engaging the public, governments, and interested parties. We are the communication bridge between LM and the public.

Bill Frazier (LM) and May Picel (Argonne National Laboratory) discuss the Riverton, Wyoming, Site with students at a Northern Arapaho event.

Mission

To communicate information about former nuclear defense sites to all internal and external stakeholders.

Vision

We are dedicated to communicating accurate and timely information to communities impacted by former nuclear defense sites in order to protect human health and the environment. We are also committed to transparency, integrity, and empathy in all our work. People matter first to the CEO Team. We honor cultural heritage and cultivate and nurture relationships through communication, education, and outreach. We are the communication bridge between LM and the public.

What Does the CEO Team Do?

We communicate and engage with local communities, state and local governments, and tribal nations in person, print, and digitally through:

- Public meetings
- Conferences
- Outreach events
- Fact sheets
- Brochures
- Stakeholder surveys
- Press releases
- Quarterly Program Update
- LM website
- Social media

Crowds in front of an LM display at the Discovery Festival in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Who Does the CEO Team Serve?

The CEO Team provides information about LM sites and programs to local communities, tribal nations, and local and state governments.

How Can You Communicate with the CEO Team?

For general inquiries about the CEO Team, please refer to the resources below:

Communications,
Education, and
Outreach Team
U.S. Department of Energy
Office of Legacy Management
1000 Independence Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20585

Phone: (202) 586-3559

Fax: (202) 586-1540

Email: LM@hq.doe.gov

Website: <https://energy.gov/lm>

